A WORD ABOUT THE ONE MILL TAX FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES.

An exchange, a few days ago, printed an editorial note in which it said that last year the republicans boasted that there would be no state tax this year, and "yet the state tax levied in 1885 was the largest ever known in the state of Wisconsin." The Gazette wishes to throw some light upon this wild and partisan statement.

The following is a paragraph taken from the report of the secretary of state for the present year—page 29:

TAXES FOR DEFRAYING EXPENSES FOR YEARS 1886 and 1887.

As will be seen by the estimates of receipts and expenditures, based on preceding years, there will be no necessity of levying a tax for general purposes for either of these years. In case, however, the legislature makes extraordinary appropriations, it will be necessary to make provision for the same.

In the governor's message to the last legislature on page 6. of "Public Documents," will be found this paragraph:

ESTIMATES OF EXPENDITURES AND REVENUES.

The secretary of state estimates that the revenues received under the general laws will be sufficient to defray the ordinary expenses of the state for the years 1886 and 1887. At the end of the fiscal year there was a balance on hand of $998,567.15. Owing to this large surplus, the secretary of state did not include the item of $210,000 of state tax, which was authorized by the last legislature, in the tax levy of 1884, and it seems to me that no additional tax will be necessary for 1886 and 1887. This is the first time in its history the state has reached this desirable condition.

Now as to the facts. As recommended by the governor and secretary of state, the legislature did not make any appropriation for defraying expenses for the years 1886 and '87. The legislature did, however, enact a law which increased the tax of 1885. Chapter 287, laws of 1885, provides that there shall be levied and collected annually, a state tax of one mill for each dollar of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of the state, which amount is to be appropriated to the common school fund income, and to be disbursed in the same manner required by law for the disbursement of the common school fund income. The first levy under this law occurs this year, and calls for $488,139.61. Were it not for this amount the total state tax would be practically the same as last year.

The next item after this, is "the interest on certificates of indebtedness and school fund income." The secretary of state is required by law to levy annually for the two portions of this item. The "interest on certificate of indebtedness," is $157,500, being the annual interest on $2,500,000, the amount of the certificates of indebtedness which represents the old bonds and certificates issued for war purposes. This $2,500,000 is due the trust fund from the state. The levying of the annual interest on this indebtedness is directed by section 280 of the revised statutes. The other part of the item is $7,088.36, annually levied according to section 247 R. S. The purpose of this levy is best explained by a reading of the section. The next item is one of $50,000.00, levied annually according to the provisions of section 496, R. S., and chapter 352, laws of 1885, for the support of free high schools, the law increasing the former appropriation of $25,000 for this purpose to $50,000. Then, again, there is the levy of $10,000 called for by chapter 364, laws of 1885, which is to go toward the erection of a normal school in Milwaukee. Finally, the university tax, of one-eighth of one mill on the dollar, required to be levied according to section 390, R. S., amended by chapter 300, laws of 1883, and amounting this year to $61,017.45.

The foregoing are all the items which are included in the state tax, are all for educational purposes, and are levied under special provisions of law, entirely directory in character. Of these amounts, the first two items, namely the common school and the one mill tax, amounting to $488,139.61, and the interest on certificates of indebtedness and school fund income, amounting to $164,588.36, will both be apportioned back to the several counties in the school apportionment next June, on the basis of the number of children of school age in each county. Thus, it will be seen, that there is no tax levy of any kind for general purposes, or to defray the expenses of the state.

The state tax for the past eleven years, levied to defray the general expenses of the state, were as follows:

1873	$421,000
1874	287,500
1875	226,000
1876	381 000
1877	201,000
1878	405,000
1879	218,000
1880	433,000
1881	310,000
1882	500 0
1883	110,000

There was no state tax levied in 1884 to defray the general expenses of the state none in 1885, and there will be none in 1886 or 1887. This fortunate condition of financial affairs has been brought about by the increase of revenues from railways, telegraph lines, and so on, as well as by wisdom and economy on the part of the administration of the state. It is a condition of affairs that any tax payer, no matter by what party name he may be known, should feel proud of, and for it give thanks.

Another remark is in order. When the one mill school tax came up for passage, it passed the senate without a single objection from any one, and in the assembly out of one hundred members there was but one no. Another thing: The state officers are in nowise responsible for the two tax levies—the $488,139.61, and the $164,588.36—and notwithstanding the large appropriation by the legislature for erecting Science hall and erecting other buildings for the state university, for a normal school in Milwaukee, for the state institutions and the like, in all amounting to $1,024,476.55, there was no state tax for the general fund recommended or ordered by the legislature. The present administration will have to keep house in a very economical way to make both ends meet with the amounts on hand, and with what it shall receive from railway and telegraph companies, but wise economy is one of the striking features of the administration and it will pull through all right. Such a satisfactory financial condition of affairs never before existed in the history of Wisconsin.

VICE PRESIDENT HENDRICKS.

The death of Vice President Hendricks, which occurred at his home at Indianapolis on Wednesday evening, the 25th of November, was as sudden as it was unexpected. He had been ill but a few hours, and even to the moment of his death there was no thought of danger. The evening before he and his wife attended a party, for which he put on a light suit, and on retiring home he felt chilly and during the night did not sleep well. But in the morning he ate a hearty breakfast, feeling much better than during the night, after which he and his wife took a walk, and to all appearances had regained his physical vigor and cheerfulness. But later in the day he began to complain of a pain in the region of the stomach. He took to his bed, but still no danger was apprehended, and while his wife was absent from his room for only a minute or two, he quietly passed into the sleep of death.

Mr. Hendricks had long been conspicuous in the politics of this country. In early life he became prominent at the bar of his own state, and likewise was a leader in his party before he attained the age of 35. He rose rapidly from one position to another, serving in both branches of the state legislature, then two terms in congress, then commissioner of the general land office, finally he reached the United States senate—serving from March 4th 1863, to March 4th 1869. He also was elected governor in 1872 and held the office until 1877. His last promotion was to the vice presidency.

In politics Mr. Hendricks belonged to the old school of democracy. Long before the war his sympathies were with the slave power; and when the great conflict came, and the Union was rushed into the terrible struggle against disunion, his heart was not with the cause of the government. He boldly, and conscientiously, no doubt, clung to the belief, as the old, time democrats did, that the Union could not be saved by fighting. He was, what was called in war times, a "peace democrat," which had only one meaning, and that was to settle the great question by allowing the south to settle on its own terms. Again, so thoroughly was Mr. Hendricks imbued with the partisanship of the old school of democrats, that from his youth up, he held closely to the Jacksonian doctrine of party spoils. In this respect he was among the most pronounced of his party, and was opposed to the professions of President Cleveland that there should be no spoilsmen in politics.

In very many respects Mr. Hendricks was one of the ablest men in his party. He was not only a fine lawyer, but in statesmanship he took rank with the chief leaders of the democracy. He was a ripe scholar, a polished gentleman, a splendid orator, and in social life was one of the strongest men in Indiana. For his rare personal probity and marked genial nature, he was esteemed by all who knew him.

There is no doubt but that President Cleveland has studied faithfully and well the Indian question. There is no doubt that he feels deeply the "Century of Dishonor" of the United States in its treatment of the Indians. It is probable that the president will make a good many very emphatic recommendations in his message to congress, and it is quite likely that the recommendations on the Indian question will be radical enough.—Madison Democrat.

When that brilliant woman and grand defender of the rights of the Indians, Mrs. Helen Hunt Jackson lay on her death-bed, she made an earnest appeal to President Cleveland to study into the condition of the Indian tribes and to read her "Century of Dishonor." She was then within four days of death's door, but she had strength to write the president a note and to say a word of truth and soberness in regard to the treatment the Indians had received from the government of the United States. The president requested his private secretary, Daniel Lamont, to get him a copy of Mrs. Jackson's "Century of Dishonor", and there he found in cold type the documentary history of the dealings of the government with the Indians. A careful reading of that remarkable book will open the eyes of anyone who has prejudged the Indians and has hastily concluded that they have been responsible for the massacres and wars that have taken place in the territories during the past twenty-five years. If the Indians have committed outrages, these outrages were first provoked by ill-treatment which was pushed beyond all human endurance. It is hoped that the president will deal with this question sharply in his message, and that congress will wake up and put a little progress and humanity in their legislation pertaining to the Indians, and see if there can not be some reform, and no more dishonor, in the dealings of the government with them.

Mr. Hendricks is the second person to die while holding the position of vice president, Henry Wilson being the first.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Sentinel is in error in making this statement. There have been five deaths among the vice presidents while holding that position—George Clinton, under James Madison, who died April 20, 1812; Elbridge Gerry, under James Madison, who died November 23, 1814; William R. King, under Franklin Pierce, who died April 18, 1853; Henry Wilson, under Grant, who died November 22, 1875; and Mr. Hendricks under Cleveland.

SORROW FOR THE DEAD

UNIVERSAL MOURNING FOR VICE PRESIDENT HENDRICKS.

Next Tuesday Fixed as the Day of Burial—Expected Attendance of Distinguished Men—Messages of Sympathy—Funeral Arrangements.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 27.—The death of Vice President Hendricks causes general sorrow in this city. Business men and politicians can be seen on every street and in all public places discussing the sad event. At an early hour in the morning the work of draping in mourning the executive mansion and the several executive departments and public buildings was begun and pushed forward throughout the entire day Thursday. The flags over both congressional chambers floated at half-mast, and the newly-cleansed marble columns of the house and senate wings were heavily draped in an artistic manner. Apparently every flag in the city was thrown to the breeze at half-mast in honor of the deceased vice president, and the picture presented was a mournful one, especially on Pennsylvania avenue.

In accordance with the suggestion of the president and the call of Sergeant-at-Arms Canaday, twenty of the twenty-six senators now in the city, assembled in the senate judiciary committee room about noon. Senator Edmunds presided, and the following named were present: Senators Edmunds, Morrill, Cullom, Walthal, Pugh, Vest, Harris, Allison, Gibson, Camden, Van Wyck, Conger, Morgan, Jones, Berry, Cockrell, Logan, Ransom, Voorhees and Dolph. The proceedings were entirely informal. The only action taken was the adoption of a resolution authorizing Senators Edmunds, Sherman, Harris, Allison, Voorhees, Pugh, Cullom, Gibson, Conger, Blair, Dolph, Camden and Vest to act as a committee to attend the funeral. Senator Edmunds and Sergeant-at-Arms Canaday were authorized to make all necessary arrangements for transportation, accommodation, etc. The senators present informally expressed their grief at the death of the vice president, but no addresses were delivered or resolutions adopted.

An informal meeting of the house of representatives was held in Speaker Carlisle's room, and about twenty members were present, including Messrs. Carlisle, Randall, Morrison, Blount, Coleman, Ward, Kleiner, Glass, Wilkins and Herbert. The meeting was strictly informal and no action was taken except to authorize the sergeant-at-arms to appoint a committee to attend the funeral. The following names were suggested as proper ones from which to select the committee: Messrs. Carlisle, Randall, Hiscock, Long, Philps, Hepburn, Brown, Bynum, Morrison, Holman, Herbert, Blount, Barbour, Hewitt and Geddes.

As the senators were leaving the capitol they were questioned as to the probable effect of the vice president's death upon the senate. There was a general disinclination to be quoted on the subject. The general opinion, however, among senators, members and other appears to be that the most immediate effect of Mr. Hendricks death will be to secure a quorum several days earlier than would have otherwise been the case.

The presidency of the senate is conceded to be somewhat in doubt. If Senator Edmunds desires that honor, it is undoubtedly within his reach, but, on the other hand, if the rumors of his disinclination to serve prove correct, there are many circumstances operating in Senator Logan's favor. The fact that he was the vice presidential candidate, and the further fact that he has lost his committee positions and is unprovided for, increase his chances in this connection. Senators Sherman and Allison are also mentioned as possibilities in the event of Senator Edmunds' declination.

Senator Logan, in an interview, expressed his sorrow at the death of his successful competitor. It is too soon, in his opinion, to discuss the probable action of the senate. Senator Gibson expressed himself as in favor of Mr. Sherman's election to the presidency of the senate. Mr. Morrison's only comment was: "Even vice presidents sometimes die." Senator Ransom remarked: "This is very sad, but I know of nothing that can be said."

Considerable pressure has been brought to bear upon Mr. Cleveland to prevent his going to Indianapolis, but Col. Lamont says the president has decided to go, and that nearly all the members of the cabinet have determined to accompany him.

Col. Hughes East, Mr. Hendricks, private secretary, received a telegram from Indianapolis Thursday evening announcing that the funeral will take place on Tuesday next at 12 m. The interment, he says, will be made in the family lot in Crown Hill cemetery, in which Mr. Hendricks' only child is interred and in which an imposing monument stands.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS.

Details of Burial Carefully Attended to—Telegrams of Condolence.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 27.—It has been decided that the funeral of Vice President Hendricks shall take place on Tuesday at 12 o'clock noon. At a public meeting held Thursday afternoon to make arrangements for the funeral, Hon. William H. English presided, and a committee of fifteen prominent citizens, of which Senator Harrison is chairman, was appointed to receive and entertain prominent persons from abroad who may attend the obsequies. A committee of thirty, headed by Judge Hord, the vice president's late law partner, will have charge of all matters connected with the funeral. The body will be in state at the court house, which will be properly prepared on Sunday and Monday next, with a suitable guard of honor from the independent military companies of this city.

The funeral services will be held at St. Paul's church (Episcopal), of which Mr. Hendricks was the senior warden. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. J. C. Jencks, rector of the parish, assisted by Dr. Fulton, of St. Louis. The president and cabinet have been specially invited and are expected. It is expected that there will be an immense attendance of distinguished men from all parts of the country. Elihu B. Washburne, who served in congress with Mr. Hendricks thirty-five years ago, will be present.

The lady who called upon Mrs. Hendricks Wednesday afternoon, and whose visit led to Mrs. Hendricks briefly absenting herself from her husband's room, was the wife of Postmaster Jones. At the same time that she called W. H. Lemcstor was in the room, having been desirous of seeing the vice president prior to leaving for Washington, where he seeks an appointment. Mrs. Hendricks entertained them both, and appeared to be unusually cheerful and happy. She spoke of the vice president's indisposition, but said he was better than he had been at any time during the day. They discussed the probabilities of his dying during this administration and the results of such an unexpected event. At that very moment, doubtless, the subject of their conversation lay dead in the room overhead.

Louis Reibold Thursday morning received a telegram from Potter Palmer and Willis Howe, of Chicago, which is self-explanatory:

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—R. H. Parks, the great sculptor, from Italy, is in Chicago. He has lately erected the Washington monument in Milwaukee. He will go to Indianapolis and take a cast of Mr. Hendricks' head, if the family will permit him to do so. Please see the family at once and wire as soon as you can. It is often done, and will not in any way injure or deface the remains, and in case at any time they should want a statue or bust it will be very necessary to have the cast.

The necessary permission was immediately secured by Mr. Reibold from Mrs. Hendricks.

Messages of condolence have been received from a number of prominent people. Among them are the following:

GREYSTONE, N. Y., Nov. 26.—MRS. T. A. HENDRICKS: I am inexpressibly shocked by the surprising and painful intelligence of the sudden closing of the career of your husband. He has faded with honors thick upon him, and in the acme of his popular esteem. In your personal bereavement I deeply sympathize, while in common with the whole country I deplore the loss of Mr. Hendricks as a public calamity.

SAMUEL J. TILDEN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—MRS T. A. HENDRICKS: You have the heartfelt sympathy of Mrs. Hewitt and myself in your overwhelming sorrow. I regret deeply that I am not well enough to attend the funeral.

ABRAHAM S. HEWITT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—MRS. T. A. HENDRICKS: One who is suffering just as much as you are, sends you tenderest sympathies.

MRS. G. B. MCCLELLAN.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—MRS. T. A. HENDRICKS: I beg to offer you my sincere condolence and sympathy. A committee of senators will come on to the funeral.

GEORGE F. EDMUNDS.

ROCKVILLE, Md., Nov. 26.—MRS. HENDRICKS: In your great sorrow, you have the deep sympathy of Mrs. Harlan and myself.

JOHN M. HARLAN.

Sorrow in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The news of the death of the vice president created a deep sensation in this city. Men stopped to discuss the matter on the street corners in the drizzling rain. In the elevated cars, hotels, and other public places the fact of the death was plainly marked in the conversation of those present. Wherever two politicians met, or a greater number gathered, the sad fact was discussed, and all paid the same high tribute to the dead man's honesty, uprightness, and faithfulness.

ALBANY, Nov. 27.—The news of Vice President Hendricks' death caused much sorrow here, and is the all absorbing topic of discussion throughout the city.

Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—Governor Pattison has ordered the state militia flags half-masted on the day of the vice president's funeral, and that colors be draped and officers wear mourning badges for thirty days. He has also ordered a salute to be fired at the state arsenal while the funeral service is being held at Indianapolis.

The Casket.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 27.—The Stein Manufacturing company, of this city, received a dispatch from Indianapolis, Thursday evening, ordering a casket for the remains of the late Vice President Hendricks. The casket in which the remains of Gen. Grant were interred was made by this company.

SPAIN MOURNS AGAIN.

MARSHAL SERRANO, HER GREAT STATESMAN, DEAD.

Carlists and Revolutionists Plotting for Confusion—Conservatives Continue to Gain in the English Elections—Balkan War-Fires Relighted.

MADRID, Nov. 27.—Marshal Serrano Dominguez, Duke de la Torre, died Thursday after a lingering illness.

Francisco Serrano Dominguez, Duke de la Torre, marshal of Spain, was born at San Fernando, near Cadiz, in 1810. Devoted to the interests of Queen Christine, he assisted in bringing about the fall of Espartero in 1843. Shortly after the marriage of Queen Isabella, in 1846, he acquired an influence over the royal mind which caused differences between the king consort and herself and occasioned some scandal. In 1854 he was exiled for complicity in a revolt in Saragossa, but returned during the revolution of July in that year, and supported the O'Donnell-Espartero cabinet. In the coup d'etat of 1856 he played into O'Donnell's hands. In 1857 he was sent as ambassador to Paris; in 1859 he was appointed director and colonel general of artillery; and in June, 1865, captain general of Madrid. During the Narvaez ministry, in 1866, he was imprisoned for a time at Alicante for opposing the premier.

The revolution of September, 1868, again brought him into prominence. Queen Isabella having fled the country, and her dynasty being proscribed, Marshal Serrano hastened to Cadiz on the 19th, when, in conjunction with Prim and Topete, he became the chief actor in the revolution. The monarchical form of government having been decided upon, Serrano was elected regent in 1869, and continued to act in that capacity until Prince Amadee, son of King Victor Emmanuel, was prevailed upon to accept the Spanish crown. In December he withdrew to France. On the last day of the year Alfonso, prince of the Asturias, was proclaimed king. Serrano returned to Madrid Feb. 1, 1873, and soon became a member of the new Spanish senate. While in this capacity—May 12, 1877—he refused to be a member of the commission charged with the duty of presenting to the king the address voted in reply to the royal message.

In 1882 as the leader of a new political party entitled the dynastic left, Serrano propounded a programme. He professed his loyalty to the king, though he still adhered to his preference for the constitution of 1869 over that at present in force, which dates from 1876. Marshal Serrano's appointment as ambassador to Paris was gazetted Nov. 14, 1883.

King Alfonso's Last Moments.

MADRID, Nov. 27.—The following details of the death of King Alfonso have been obtained from the palace at El Pardo: At half-past 7 o'clock Wednesday morning Cardinal Bonavides, of Navarro, archbishop of Saragossa, received the dying monarch's confession and administered the last sacraments of the church, in the presence of Queen Isabella and Queen Christina, part of the royal family and the chief officers of the household. Soon after this King Alfonso implored that his daughters might be sent for so that he could see them before he died. The children were in Madrid, ten miles away, and an urgent dispatch was sent to Madrid, directing that they be brought to El Pardo at once. All possible haste was made in complying with this order, but when the two little princesses arrived at the palace it was too late to see their father alive. King Alfonso died at 8:45 a. m. in the arms of Queen Christina. Cardinal Benavides sought to console Queen Isabella, who wept bitterly. The infanta Isabella, the king's oldest sister, fainted away. Queen Christina covered her husband's corpse with flowers, and she refuses to leave the room in which the embalmed remains are now lying.

Plotting for Confusion.

MADRID, Nov. 27.—Although the city is for the most part tranquil, grave fears are entertained that a revolutionary outbreak may follow the confusion caused by the sudden death of King Alfonso, and great precautions are being taken to put the military in readiness to suppress any possible outbreak. Orders have been issued to have the troops in Catalonia, Castile, and Biscay strongly reinforced, and the first reserve of 100,000 men will probably be summoned to organize. A great sensation was created Thursday afternoon by the explosion of a petard under a cafe in a street adjoining the Puerta del Sol. Windows in the vicinity were shattered, and three persons badly injured. Revolutionists are supposed to have been at the bottom of the affair, and in consequence of it fourteen arrests have been made of suspected persons.

Paris dispatches say that a number of Carlist chiefs met at Bayonne Thursday, and resolved to await orders from Don Carlos before taking decisive action. Meanwhile preparations are being made there for a great Carlist rising in Spain. The French perfects have been ordered to watch the Franco-Spanish frontier closely. Ruiz Zorilla has started from Paris for Spain, for the purpose, it is believed, of fomenting a rebellion.

A SORT OF GROUND SWELL.

Continued Success of the Tories in the British Elections.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Tory reaction is still unchecked, and the enthusiasm of the Conservatives is unbounded and contagious. Great crowds gather in the neighborhood of the bulletin boards and cheer the announcement of sweeping Tory successes. Mr. Gladstone is fearfully chagrined over the result, and has abandoned all hope of more than the barest liberal majority at best. He has arranged to leave Scotland on Saturday, traveling by the night mail in order to avoid awkward demonstrations on the way. The Conservatives have carried five of the six Manchester divisions. The Sugar operatives of East St. Georges returned Mr. Ritchie, an advocate of countervailing duties. In Hampstead Sir H. Holland, Conservative, who received 2,735 votes, defeated the marquis of Lorne, Liberal, who received 1,810. In Westminster Mr. Burdett-Coutts, the baroness' husband, polled 3,000 votes, defeating Professor E. S. Beasley, Liberal, the famous positivist writer, who polled 1,736. The Irish vote in Northeast Manchester enabled Sir James Ferguson, Conservative, to defeat the former Home Ruler, R. P. Blennerhasset, Liberal. In Southwest Manchester Lord Frederick Hamilton, Conservative, defeated Jacob Bright, Liberal, the brother of Mr. John Bright.

Returns up to 1 o'clock Friday morning show that 109 Liberals, 108 Tories, and 10 Parnellites have been elected. The Liberal gains so far are 6 seats, and the Tory gains 20 seats. The Conservatives threaten to petition for a new election in Chelsea on the ground of personal intimidation by Sir Charles Dilke, who was elected there on Tuesday.

The Daily News, commenting upon the election returns, says:

We know no reason why the Liberals should be discouraged. The country voters are certain to vote for the givers of the franchise. A further inducement for them to support the Liberal party is their direct interest in the land question. The absence of the Irish vote is of less interest than the loss of the votes of Liberal churchmen.

MORE BLOODSHED COMING.

Milan and Alexander Spit on Their Hands and Take a Fresh Start.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Dispatches from the east deny the report that King Milan purposes to abdicate his throne, and show that peace is by no means so near at hand as had been expected. It is known that the Servians have sent a second flag of truce to the Bulgarian lines, proposing an armistice, but the Bulgarians refused to entertain the proposition until the conditions named heretofore had been complied with. The conditions were the evacuation of the Widin district by the Servians and the settlement of the amount of war indemnity to be paid by Servia. Meanwhile Prince Alexander refuses to stop the advance of the Bulgarian troops, and their onward march continues.

As a result of Prince Alexander's refusal of the proposal for an armistice, Servia is forced to begin hostilities anew. King Milan is rapidly enrolling her reserve forces, and is sending them to the frontier to meet the Bulgarian forces which are advancing upon Pirot. Severe fighting in the neighborhood of Zaribrod is reported, and the latest accounts represent the Servians as retreating.

A dispatch from Sofia says that at 4 o'clock on the morning of Thursday, the 26th inst., Prince Alexander, at the head of 50,000 Bulgarian troops, entered Servian territory. Great enthusiasm prevails in the army and throughout Bulgaria.

TRULY THANKFUL.

After Being Many Years Estranged, Husband and Wife Are Reunited.

KROKUK, Iowa, Nov. 27.—Thanksgiving Day brought joy unbounded to the hearts of Capt. W. Lyttle, of this city, and his wife, who have been for many years estranged. Lyttle located in this city about fifteen years ago, and during that time, with the exception of a short period spent in St. Louis, has resided here, being in the employ of the government. He lived at Fort Wayne, Ind., prior to coming to this city, and there separated from his wife and had not seen her but once during the interval between the separation and the happy reunion that occurred Thursday. They were married in 1843 under romantic circumstances. The proposed union met with parental opposition, and a runaway match resulted. They started over the country in a wagon in the direction of the county seat, and, having provided themselves with the required legal documents, were joined in wedlock by a rural minister on their return trip to the place where the bride had been living temporarily. After a few years of married life difference arose and a separation followed. Several years ago Mrs. Lyttle went to Huron, D. T., and took up her residence with a married daughter. About six weeks ago the captain concluded to effect a reconciliation, if possible. Prompted by this motive he addressed his wife a letter, and, after several days, received a favorable reply. He then proceeded to fit up a home, and Thursday morning the wife arrived and the couple at once took possession of their new home.

RIOT AT A WEDDING.

Poles and Hungarians "Come Together" in Reading, Pa.

READING, Pa., Nov. 27.—Solim Ritzan and Meliza Martz were married Thursday in Centralia, this county. He is a Polander and she a Hungarian. Her people were opposed to the marriage, and after the wedding was over a lot of Hungarians attacked Mr. and Mrs. Ritzan as they left in a carriage for home. The newly-married pair were dragged from the vehicle, when a number of Polanders joined in and interfered. A free fight followed, during which knives and pistols were used. During the struggle a young man named Jack Butler, from Centralia, was stabbed several times, and George Schaum, a married man about 23 years of age, received four or five knife wounds. Both are mortally wounded. Their friends say the wounded men had taken no part in the disturbance, but were attacked in mistake. Ritzan and his bride drove off in safety during the melee. The feeling between the Hungarians and Polanders is very bitter.

Another Billiard Tournament.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Schaefer, Slosson and Vignaux have given notice to the management of the late billiard tournament to deduct from their share in the gate receipts $500 each, to be deposited with The New York Clipper, for a sweepstakes championship tournament, 14-inch balk line game, to take place in New York city between Dec. 15 and Feb. 15. The tournament is open to the world, but any player who wishes to enter must deposit $500 with The New York Clipper within ten days. The winner is to receive 50 per cent. of the stake money and the net receipts, and a suitable emblem indicative of the championship. Thirty per cent. goes to the second and 20 to the third. The tournament will be played to a finish. If any additional entries are received one game between each contestant will be played; otherwise the three named will play two games each as in the recent tournament.

Snow Three Feet Deep.

MT. CARMEL, Pa., Nov. 27.—The heavy snowstorm is still raging throughout the coal region, and in a number of places the snow is now three feet deep. A number of trains have been derailed. At Delano, on the Lehigh Valley road, the early morning freight from Philadelphia was thrown from the track. One car and a quantity of valuable goods were destroyed. In anticipation of a rapid thaw, the coal operators are increasing the pumping capacity of their mines.

Americans Expelled from Germany.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—Two Americans, Peter Jepson and Martin Grunstoel, staying at Hadersleben, a seaport town of Prussia, have been ordered to quit Germany. Both are naturalized citizens of the United States and reside in Illinois. Mr. Jepson has appealed to the American legation.

Observance of Thanksgiving Day.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Dispatches received from various points throughout the country are to the effect that on Thanksgiving day business was generally suspended and church services largely attended, while the succulent turkey paid his usual tribute to the day.

One-Tenth in Five Months.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The Grant Monument Fund association set its limit at $1,000,000 shortly after the general's death. At the end of five months $100,000 had been collected. This sum was reached Wednesday.

Miss Von Blumen Makes a Failure.

BUFFALO, Nov. 27.—Miss Von Blumen finished her 400-mile bicycle race here Thursday night at 10:50. She started at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning in an effort to ride 400 consecutive miles in fifty-three consecutive hours.

Trial of Tom Davis' Slayer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The trial of James T. Holland, the Texan, for the murder of Thomas Davis, which was set down for Wednesday, has been indefinitely postponed.

New York Private Detectives.

[Blakely Hall in San Francisco Argonaut.]

There is no end of private detectives in New York, but only one or two firms of good reputation. The majority of private detective concerns deal almost entirely with divorce cases, and are thoroughly disreputable organizations. Apparently, when a man gets so far down that he is no longer fit for respectable business, he takes up the calling of a private detective. He can be hired to do any sort of a dirty job for a pittance.

I know one large-souled and generous man in New York who has had two of these detectives dogging his wife's footsteps for eleven months, and the total cost thereof is $10 per week for each man. They are supposed to divide their time into watches of twelve hours each, and they are constantly discovering suspicious circumstances, but never anything that is wrong.

The Grand Aims of Life.

Are nullities to the johronic invalid. What to him are the rewards of ambition, the accumulation of fortune, or the fruition of domestic happiness? The zest of life is gone, its aims are dead. Well for him if all this is not irretrievable—if his malady is not of the deep seated organic sort which forbids hope of cure. For many of the ills to which flesh is heir, formerly supposed to be incurable, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a sovereign remedy. Among them are dyspepsia, chronic constipation, rheumatism, debility and nervousness. These are remediable with the grand restorative, which does the work thoroughly, striking at the root of the evils to the removal of which it is adapted. By insuring activity and purity of the circulation, inducing a healthy flow of the bile, and promoting a regular habit of body, it fortifies the system against malaria. It is also useful as a diuretic.

Our readers will find the finest assortment of gentlemens' and ladies' toilet sets at Prentice & Evenson's drug store, opposite the post office, and the prices are much lower than last season. They also offer an elegant line of pearl opera glasses, in all the latest styles. Very cheap.

NATIONAL BANKS.

COMPTROLLER CANNON'S REPORT IN REGARD THERETO.

A Large Decrease in the Circulation—Suggestions as to Relief for Them—Silver Dollars and Certificates—Statistics of Bankruptcy.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 27.—The annual report of H. W. Cannon, comptroller of the currency, contains much interesting information. It shows that during the year ending Nov. 1, 1885, 145 banks have been organized with a capital of $16,923,000, and circulating notes have been issued to those new associations amounting to $4,274,010. Since the establishment of the national banking system on Feb. 25, 1863, there have been organized 3,400 national banks. Of these 422 have gone into voluntary liquidation for the purpose of winding up their affairs; 79 for the purpose of reorganization; 64 are in liquidation by expiration of their charters, of which number 33 have been reorganized and 104 have been placed in the hands of receivers for the purpose of closing up their affairs, leaving the total number in existence on Nov. 1, 1885, 2,727, which is the largest number that has been in operation at any one time.

Under the provisions of the act of July 12, 1882, national banks with a capital of from $50,000 to $150,000 may be organized upon a minimum deposit of United States bonds equal to 25 per cent of their capital. The controller states that this reduction to the minimum deposit of bonds has had the effect to increase the number of small banks organized. While the number of banks organized from July 1, 1879, to July 1, 1882, with a capital of $150,000 and under was 232, the number of banks of this class organized from July 1, 1882 to July 1, 1885 was 548. He calls particular attention to the fact that banks are no longer organized especially for the purpose of issuing circulation, for the reason that in a great majority of cases, only the minimum amount of bonds required by law is deposited for the purpose of issuing circulation.

A larger number of banks expired by limitation during the year 1885 than have or will expire during any year prior to 1890. Among the banks which have been extended during the past year, were thirty in the city of New York, with an aggregate capital of $25,350,000, as well as a large number in Boston, Philadelphia, and other principal cities, being some of the largest banking institutions in the United States. Notwithstanding the organization of new banks, the aggregate amount of bonds on deposit to secure circulation has, during the past year, diminished from $325,316,300 to $303,364,550, and the net decrease in circulation during the year has been $15,545,061. The reduction in circulation has been less than was estimated by the comptroller in his last annual report, as no United States bonds have been called for payment during the year ending Nov. 1, 1885. The reduction from other causes, notably the small profit on circulation, has been greater than anticipated, and the comptroller believes the contraction of national bank circulation will continue so unless some legislation is had which will increase the profit which national banks derive from the issue of circulating notes, and proposes that the tax on circulation be removed, and the amount of circulation which national banks are permitted to issue be increased to the par value of the bonds deposited by them.

He refers to the fact that, although there has been a contraction in national bank notes, the circulating medium of the country has been increased by silver dollars and silver certificates, and in this connection he calls attention to the statement in his last annual report that the continued coinage of the standard silver dollar under the present provisions of the law is in excess of the requirements of the country, and is liable to bring the business of the country to a silver basis, and cause some degree of financial disturbance.

The report contains a chapter on national bank failures, from which it appears that four banks with an aggregate capital of $600,000 failed during the past year. Full statistics in regard to the taxation of national banks are given, showing that during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1885, there was paid to the government of the United States, $2,794,084 taxes on circulating notes of national banks. Tables are presented in the report in order that comparisons may be made between the annual dividends paid by the national banks in the United States and those paid by foreign banks to their stockholders, which indicate that the average dividends and earnings of national banks in the United States are, as a rule, less than those of the banks in other countries.

The report contains comparative statements of the resources and liabilities of the national banks during the past ten years, and a detailed statement of the condition on the first day of October, 1885. The different items indicate that the business of the national banks has largely increased during the past year, although the items of United States bonds and circulating notes have decreased. Liabilities to depositors and correspondents have increased more than $180,000,000. During the year, the banks have increased their specie resources more than $40,000,000. This increase is made up of $44,471,714 of gold coin, and $1,791,284 of silver coin. The legal tender notes held by the banks have, however, diminished about $2,500,000.

Mr. Springer's Rules.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 27.—There is good ground for believing that ex-Speaker Carlisle has advised Mr. Springer to modify in certain particulars his proposition to revise the rules of the house, and that Mr. Springer has complied with the suggestion and will submit the measure to the courts in its revised form. The revision, it is understood, does not affect the main features, viz: The consolidation of a number of the minor committees and the distribution of the army, naval, postoffice, and military academy bills to appropriate committees.

A Pennsylvania Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—Shortly after 3 o'clock Thursday evening fire was discovered in Littlewood's dye works, on Main street, below Shur's lane, Manayunk. The building, which was entirely destroyed, is a four-story stone structure forty-five feet front by sixty-five in depth, and is composed of dyeing and press rooms. The fire destroyed a frame building adjoining, used as a store-house. Loss, $80,000; fully insured.

An Ocean Steamer Foundered.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The British steamer Aurora, while leaving Hartlepool for Savannah Wednesday, struck a rock in the harbor, and subsequently proceeded. She foundered within two hours. The crew left the vessel in three boats. The first boat, with nine men, and the second, with twelve men, landed safely. The third, with nine men, reached the shore with only six, three others having been drowned.

Thousands Say So

Mr. T. W. Atkins, Girard, Kan., writes: "I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters to my customers, they give entire satisfaction and are rapid sellers." Electric Bitters are the purest and best medicine known and will positively cure Kidney and Liver complaints. Purify the blood and regulate the bowels. No family can afford to be without them. They will save hundreds of dollars in doctor's bills every year. Sold at 50 cents a bottle by F. Sherer & Co.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS ARE WASTED annually in physians' fees, when five or ten dollars expended on that unapproachable conqueror of disease, Dr. Richmond's Samaritan Nervine, would effect in every case a radical cure. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY.

Its Management Attacked and Ably Defended in the St. Louis Convention.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 27.—The principal matter before the cattlemen's convention Thursday was the discussion of the resolutions upon the proper method of dealing with the question of cattle diseases—pleuro-pneumonia, etc. The committee on resolutions preseted a resolution favoring the appointment of a live stock commission of five by the general government to act under national auspices in the suppression of disease. This resolution was a direct attack upon the bureau of animal industry, and raised a heated discussion, during which Col. Taylor, of New Mexico, in an able and comprehensive paper attacked the arguments heretofore presented by members of the Chicago live stock exchange against the bureau. Dr. Salomon, chief of the bureau, then took the stand and defended his bureau with some very severe replies to the gentlemen who had attacked him. He showed that the scare over the Missouri herd was caused by an expert veterinarian selected by the governor as a practical cattleman and indorsed by the sanitary commission of the state, composed of practical men. He excoriated Mr. Coy and Mr. Washburn, of the Chicago live stock exchange for their statements with regard to pleuro-pneumonia. He gave the history of the Chicago scare, and traced the cases of pleuro-pneumonia to their inception in the east. He showed that the disease was pronounced pleuro-pneumonia by state experts, private experts and practical cattle men. He showed that the trouble in foreign trade came not from America, but from England, where the experts pronounce the disease pleuro-pneumonia. He gave the history of different outbreaks of the disease. He said that state commissioners and experts had been denounced for calling the disease by its right name, but they had been vindicated. He said the course of the Chicago exchange was prompted by a desire to boom business, but it was a blunder. He spoke of the immense loss the lack of care had caused. He thought the disease should be stamped out at once, and it should be done by a compact body, capable of attending to the matter. This would result in the saving of money, and be of immense advantage to the cattle interests.

After all the orators of the convention had fully discussed the question, a resolution was adopted asking congress for legislation protective against disease.

The committee on branding then submitted a report recommending that brands be made as small as possible and placed on the least valuable part of the hide. Mr. Head, of New Mexico, read a paper upon the importance of keeping a trail open from Texas to the northwest. The paper was adopted as a resolution, and will be presented to congress for consideration. The convention then adjourned for the day.

CONDENSED NEWS.

A KINGLESS THRONE.

Spain's Ruler Surrenders to Death—Christina Appointed Regent.

MADRID, Nov. 26.—Alfonso XII died at 8:45 Wednesday morning. His death was caused by consumption.

Death-Bed Scenes.

MADRID, Nov. 26.—The dying agonies of King Alfonso lasted continuously from Monday afternoon until Wednesday morning. Throughout Monday night this majesty had a succession of spasmodic fits which were the result of fever and the debility caused by his long illness and his inability to retain or assimilate food. Six eminent physicians from Madrid and two local practitioners of El Pardo were in constant attendance. A general consultation was held Wednesday morning, and the physicians decided that their royal patient was in danger of a continuance of the spasms throughout Tuesday, and, indeed, until he should be relieved of his sufferings by death. The king suffered intense agony at short intervals throughout Tuesday and Tuesday night. Early Wednesday morning the attending physicians saw that the end was near, and the royal family, the chief officers of state and the cabinet ministers were summoned. All responded in person except the ministers of war and the interior, who were unable to reach El Pardo in time. The papal nuncio was also present, bearing the apostolic benediction of the pope, which he was just in time to give to the dying monarch. The king died at precisely 8:45 in the morning.

Premier Canovas forthwith summoned a meeting of the cabinet, and it was held almost immediately, the only absentees being the two ministers above mentioned. The cabinet formally appointed Queen Maria Christina regent of Spain in accordance with the Spanish law of succession. In compliance with another provision of the same law, all the members of the cabinet resigned, but they will retain their portfolios and perform the duties of their offices pending the announcement of the regent's pleasure.

The remains of King Alfonso, after lying in state at Madrid, will be buried in the Pantheon, under the high altar in the Escurial palace, which is the tomb of all the Spanish kings since Charles V.

The fear of a revolution in Madrid is subsiding, and it has been decided not to declare a state of siege in the capital, and not to resort to martial law unless absolutely unavoidable.

Resignation of the Cabinet.

MADRID, Nov. 25.—Queen Mora Christina, the regent of Spain has accepted the resignations of the premier, Don Canovas del Castello and his colleagues, and has called upon Senor P. M Sagasta to form a new ministry. It is probable that the new cabinet will be composed as far as practicable of the surviving members of the Sagasta cabinet of 1881. The names of the most prominently mentioned for the various portfolios are as follows: Minister of war, Capt. Gen. J. Jovellar m. Soler; minister of finance, Senor T. F. Camacho; minister of the interior, Senor V. Gonzalez; minister of foreign affairs, Senor A. Aguilar, marquis de la Vega de Armijo; minister of justice, Senor M. Alonzo Martinez.

The only change in the above list from the Sagasta cabinet of 1881 is in the case of the war minister. This post was occupied by Capt. Gen. Martinez de Campos y Anton, but it is said that he is now to be appointed commander-in-chief of the army. Capt. Gen. A. Marsales de los Rios will probably be appointed governor of Madrid. The remains of King Alfonso have been embalmed, but no arrangements have yet been completed for the funeral.

Queen Victoria's Sympathy.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Queen Victoria was the first person in England who was informed of the death of King Alfonso. She immediately sent by telegraph a message of condolence to Queen Maria Christina, and within half an hour dispatched a special queen's messenger to the British embassy at Madrid with a more formal message of grief and sympathy.

Snow Three Feet Deep.

MT. CARMEL, Pa., Nov. 25.—The heavy snowstorm is still raging throughout the coal region, and in a number of places the snow is now three feet deep. A number of trains have been derailed. At Delano, on the Lehigh Valley road, the early morning freight from Philadelphia was thrown from the track. One car and a quantity of valuable goods were destroyed. In anticipation of a rapid thaw, the coal operators are increasing the pumping capacity of their mines.

Business Failures.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Lewis Bros. & Kennedy, dry goods merchants, failed Wednesday. Liabilities, $100,000; assets $30,000.

Another Billiard Tournament.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Schaefer, Slosson and Vignaux have given notice to the management of the late billiard tournament to deduct from their share in the gate receipts $500 each, to be deposited with The New York Clipper, for a sweepstakes championship tournament, 14-inch balk line game, to take place in New York city between Dec. 15 and Feb. 15. The tournament is open to the world, but any player who wishes to enter must deposit $500 with The New York Clipper within ten days. The winner is to receive 50 per cent. of the stake money and the net receipts, and a suitable emblem indicative of the championship. Thirty per cent. goes to the second and 20 to the third. The tournament will be played to a finish. If any additional entries are received one game between each contestant will be played; otherwise the three named will play two games each as in the recent tournament.

Army Veterans Protesting.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 26.—Gen. Nat S. Lane, of Philadelphia, Wednesday morning presented President Cleveland resolutions adopted by Meade Post, G. A. R., setting forth that Gen. Henry S. Huidekooper, a comrade of that post, a Union soldier, who had lost an arm in the service, had been been removed from the position of postmaster at Philadelphia, without, as far as they know, any just cause. They therefore asked the president whether, in the absence of charges affecting a wounded soldier's official character or ability, such removal was not contrary to the spirit that has and should pervade executive departments.

In the Interest of Southern Harbors.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 26.—A convention called in the interest of the south Atlantic harbors met here. Tuesday, with 200 delegates representing Georgia, Florida, Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, and Pennsylvania present. A permanent committee was chosen and a committee was appointed to draft a memorial asking congress to appropriate money for the improvement of the harbors.

Sale of Howgate's Property.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 26.—Trustee Coyle has turned over to the government $19,045, the proceeds of property sold in the civil cases of the United States against Capt. Howgate, ex-disbursing officer of the signal service.

A Skating Rink Mock-Marriage.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 27.—A most disgraceful affair occurred at the Newport (Ky.) rink Wednesday evening. A young fellow named Poetz personated the groom and another young fellow named Turner dressed in female costume and were married on skates in the center of the rink by 'Squire Botkin, who was innocent of the joke played upon him. The rink manager also claims to be innocent of any knowledge that the affair was to be a miserable, sacrilegious travesty on marriage. The city is greatly excited over the matter, and many vow that they will never visit the rink again.

Death of a Wealthy Ex-Congressman.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Hon. Jeremiah W. Dwight died at his home in Dryden, Thursday, from neuralgia of the heart. He was a member of the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh congresses. He owned several thousands acres of land in Dakota, and founded the town of Dwight in that territory. His name was prominently mentioned for the Republican candidacy for governor last fall.

Verdict for a Large Amount.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Fisk & Hatch sued H. Y. Alterill and W. N. Scutter, directors of the Rockaway Beach Improvement company, to recover $103,035 loaned the company to aid in building the big hotel at Rockaway. The jury Thursday gave plaintiffs a verdict for the whole amount. The loan, it was claimed, was obtained upon false representations as to the financial condition of the company.

Getting Off Pretty Easily.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 27.—Governor Hoadly Thursday morning pardoned Martin W. Elliott, of Columbiana county. Elliott has served the better part of a two years sentence for shooting at his son, a boy 13 years old, who refused to do some errands. His pardon is asked for by the sentencing judge and prosecuting attorney.

Advancement of Rail Prices.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27—The secretary of the Iron and Steel association reports that prices have been steadily advanced for the past three months. The following are the figures for August and November: Pig-iron—$17.85, $18.35. Steel rails—$27.50, $33. Bar-iron—$38.08, $39.20. Cut nails—$2.05, $2.52.

A Crime That Is Spreading.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 27.—Ed Doty and Will Collett, boys of 14 years, dragged Jennie Manfield, 7 years old, into an alley Wednesday evening and committed a rape upon her. She was badly bruised and lacerated. Both boys were arrested. Collett has confessed.

The Collection Was Small.

BOSTON, Nov. 27.—Rev. W. W. Downs preached for the first time in Mechanics' hall Thursday to an audience of 2,000. He announced that he should hold two services there each Sunday during the remainder of the year. The collection was small.

Lima.

—M Holbrook's new house is progressing finely.

—Dr. Green and L. Hulse, of Whitewater, were in town Thursday.

—Mary Bell Trumpant is visiting in Stoughton.

—O. E. Truman has gone to Rockford for a stay of indefinite length.

—W. C. Tilton's people are entertaining a cousin from Milton Junction.

—H. B. Cornell, of Racine, has been a welcome caller in town of late.

—G. R. Kimball, of St. Paul, visited at Fred Gould's last week, and was accompanied to his home in Grand Rapids, Mich., by his cousin, Miss Orra Gould.

—The Misses Whitney, of Whitewater, were in town over Sunday.

—Ed Scheild goes this week to visit his brother at Merril, Wis.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gould and Miss Mina Gould dined at L. E. Gosselin's in Ft. Atkinson Thanksgiving day.

—At her home in Lima Friday morning, Carrie, wife of Albert Stillman, passed from this life to the shores of that better land, where virtue receives its just reward and the good deeds of a useful existence are recorded in golden letters. For some time she had been a great sufferer, but she bore her afflictions with a mildness that is only dictated by a true christian spirit. The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. Stillman, who is now left to walk life's way alone.

POSTMASTER GENERAL VILAS' HOME.

Postmaster General Vilas hails from Madison, Wis., and that extremely pretty city is very proud of her handsome and eloquent cabinet officer, who, at the time he was chosen by President Cleveland as one of his advisers, represented her in the Wisconsin Legislature. Madison is also proud because she is the State Capital and possesses a very imposing Capitol building standing in a lovely park. Then Madison may also be proud of Wisconsin University, with its hundreds of students and able faculty; of the Soldiers' Orphans' Home, of the State Lunatic Asylum buildings, and of the many industries which go to make up the prosperity of the thriving little capital. All these institutions have grown up since 1836, at which time Madison was in the wilderness. Pushing and intelligent citizens have made her what she is, and it is pleasant to observe that Madison still possesses a very large proportion of clear-headed men and women, who appreciate a good thing when they see it and are glad to make its merits known.

One of this class of citizens is L. A. Rogers, the baggage-master of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, who is well known to all Madisonians and by a large part of the traveling public. Mr. Rogers has this to say of how he was cured of a long-standing complaint:

"I suffered with rheumatism for some time, so that it was with great pain that I could move around at all, and I also spent many sleepless nights. I am glad to say that after using two bottles of Athlophoros I am entirely free from pain. No one need suffer from rheumatism if they will give it a fair trial."

George W. Huntley, a dealer in groceries at No. 66 Pinckney street, and a leading merchant and old resident, commends the medicine as follows:

"I have used Athlophoros for rheumatism and can most cheerfully say with the most satisfactory results."

"Mary I. Whiting, of No. 810 University avenue, who has lived in Madison for thirty years and is known and respected by every one, says:

"I have been a victim of severe rheumatism for the past three years, and having tried almost every remedy known without any avail I was much discouraged. Last winter I was afflicted much worse than ever and was induced to try Athlophoros. I am glad to state that I am now free from pain and I pronounce the medicine a God-send for the afflicted."

To these words of commendation may be added those of Mr. T. R. Lutzow, a well-known citizen who says of Athlophoros:

"My wife was seriously afflicted with rheumatism, principally in her arms. She has now used two bottles of Athlophoros and is well and free from pain. I can cheerfully recommend the remedy to my friends and the public as being all that it claims to be."

William Sommers, foreman for B. F. McMillan & Bro., of McMillan, Wis., says that seven bottles of Athlophoros relieved him entirely of rheumatism of five years' standing, which was so acute at times as to compel him to give up work. Three bottles entirely cured his brother-in-law, Louis Zimmering, whom rheumatism had compelled to give up his place as edger in a saw mill. He now fills his old position without the least inconvenience.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York

Briefiets.

—School in five acts at the rink to-morrow night.

—Remember the spiritual seance at the opera house on Sunday evening.

—A basket social will be held in the Congregational church this evening. All are invited.

—Another California excursion will leave over the Chicago and Northwestern road in a few days.

—Regular semi-monthly meeting of the W. H. Sargent Post No, 20, G. A. R. this evening, at Post headquarters.

—Don't forget the social party this evening at the K. P. hall. Music—Smith & Corliss band.

Just opened at N. Y. Saving store—ladies' collars and cuffs in matched sets, new and nobby styles—25c set.

—The city was very quiet yesterday, only two arrests being made by the police—two Thanksgiving drunks.

—The poll-tax collector is abroad in the land, and it is astonishing to see how many men there are in Janesville over fifty years old.

—The great five mile race at the rink to-morrow night will be called at nine o'clock sharp and will no doubt be the fastest race ever skated in the rink.

—People's Lodge, No. 460, Independent Order of Good Templars, regular weekly meeting this evening—lodge room in the Court Street M. E. church block.

—Mr. Chas. Horn, who recently purchased the saloon on River street of M. Bonb, will have an "opening" on Monday evening of next week, setting up a "game" supper for his many friends.

—A squad of eight members of the Bower City Rifles went to Monroe yesterday, and attended the military party given by the Monroe Guards last evening, returning home this morning. They report a very pleasant time.

—We are requested to state by way of an explanation, that regulations require the flag to be displayed at full mast on the day of the regular meetings of the G. A. R. post, which accounts for their flag being so placed to-day instead of at half-mast.

—The dog circus at the opera house yesterday afternoon and evening did not draw very large audiences. Nevertheless the show possessed much merit, many of the dogs being highly trained, and their performance greatly amused and entertained the people.

—There will be a basket social this evening at the home of the Misses Hanson, on Terrace street, first ward. The social is given under the auspices of the Young Ladies Missionary society, of the Presbyterian church. A cordial invitation is extended to the friends of the society.

—On receipt of the news of the death of Vice President Hendricks, flags were displayed at half-mast on the armories of the Bower City Rifles, the Janesville Guards, the G. A. R. Post, and the west side engine house and city hall. The flag belonging to the east side engine house was so badly wrecked that it could not be so displayed, but will be as soon as repaired.

—The home of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Pierson, Center street, fourth ward, was the scene of a pleasant family re-union yesterday, all the members of the family excepting two grand children being present Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pierson and family, of Beloit; Ambrose Pierson, wife and child, of Whitewater, and Mr. George Pierson, of Beloit, being present to partake of Thanksgiving turkey with their parents.

—The annual party of Rescue Hook and Ladder Company, at the Rifles' armory on Wednesday evening, was attended by a very large number of young people—over two hundred couples participating in the merry dance. Everything passed off smoothly and there was not a ripple to mar the pleasures of the evening. The company is to be congratulated upon the great success of their party.

—Mr. Albert Schock, of Chicago, the champion long distance skater of the United States, who skates in the race against three of Janesvilles fastest skaters at the rink Saturday night, has skated in more and won more races than any other professional skater. He has a record of 1026 miles in six days, 525 miles in sixty hours, and 421 miles in forty-eight hours. The race is for five miles—three of our boys to skate one mile each, and the fourth one two miles. Mr. Schock is the first professional long distance skater who has ever visited Janesville, and a very interesting race may be expected.

They Will Surely Find You.

They are looking for you everywhere. Drafts of air in unexpected places, going from hot rooms to cold ones, carelessness in changing clothing. In short anything which ends in a common cold in the head. Unless arrested this kind of cold becomes seated in the mucous membrane of the head. Then it is catarrh. In any and all its stages this disease always yields to Ely's Cream Balm. Safe, agreeable, certain. Price 50 cents.

COURT NOTES.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Wood county libel case is proving a very interesting suit, and is drawing a large number of spectators. It will not be finished for some time to come.

MUNICIPAL COURT.

There were three tramps before Judge Patton to-day, each one receiving a sentence of five days. After them came two drunks, one of whom being fined two dollars, and the other, John Freeman, of Harmony, being sentenced to five days in jail and a fine of one dollar and costs.

The case of four young men from Hanover, charged with an assault and battery on Valentine Beers of that village is being heard this afternoon.

Man's inhumanity to woman makes countless thousands mourn, would be an applicable rendering of Pope's line, in view of the indignities she has sufferod and pains undergone at the hands of unskillful physicians and quacks. Naturally modest she suffers on until forced to consult a physician regarding some female difficulty which she well knows is sapping her strength. All this embarassment can be avoided and a cure effected by purchasing Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" of your druggist, and taking as directed. Price reduced to one dollar.

Ladies' fine white cashmere underwear $1.50 per suit. Splendid value.

OBITUARY.

JENNIE MARIETTE NOWLAN.

A glad Thanksgiving was followed by keen anguish and the deepest sorrow in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar F. Nowlan of the second ward, who to-day mourn the loss of little Jennie Mariette, who died membranous croup after a few hours of intense suffering, at three o'clock this morning. Mr. Nowlan was called to Madison yesterday morning, and little thought that the "Good by, papa," and the farewell kiss of the little girl meant good by forever. Jennie was about the house apparently as well as ever yesterday, but in the evening complained a little, and soon alarming symptoms were noticed, which developed rapidly, and resulted in her death after a few brief hours. Every effort failed to reach Mr. Nowlan by telegraph, and the first sad intelligence came to him like a thunderbolt out of the clear sky, when he entered his home at ten o'clock this morning. In this hour of grief and sad bereavement the family will share the sympathy of many warm friends in the city.

The funeral will be held at the house on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. A. J. Van Wagner conducting services.

MAGGIE SCANLON.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scanlon have been called upon to mourn, and to-day their home on Center avenue, fifth ward, is marked by funeral drapings. Last night their six-year-old daughter, Maggie, was attacked by membranous croup, and before morning the little one was no more.

The funeral will be held to-morrow at two o'clock p. m., from the home of the bereaved parents.

OTTO GEHRKE.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. August Gehrke on East Milwaukee street has been thrown into mourning by the death of their eight year old son Otto. The little fellow had been sick for some days with a disease closely resembling diphtheria. He had been very low and his death was expectedly hourly.

Time tried and true is Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure, which combines the good qualities of all the best cough remedies without the defects of any of them. It cures promptly and permanently coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, influenza, bronchitis, hoarseness, incipient consumption, and all throat and lung diseases, healing the lungs. Safe and pleasant for children. Price 50 cents and $1.

THANKSGIVING.

How the Day Was Observed in Janesville.

TRINITY CHURCH.

The two Episcopal societies hold a union service at Trinity church, Rev. C. M. Pullen delivering the sermon. After a special song service by the surpliced choir, he announced his text, and began the sermon which treated of many reasons for being thankful. He painted in glowing words the countless hosts under the Lord's command and then spoke of the uselessness of man laboring to accomplish his end without God's help. God had been very merciful and had showered many blessings upon the people of this city, and while some had been afflicted, still few would say that they had experienced no good fortune. For all these things thanks should be given and praise rendered. The discourse was an able one and was well adapted to the occasion.

COURT STREET M. E. CHURCH.

The Thanksgiving services yesterday were well attended. The day was bright and sunshine and thoroughly in keeping with the grateful spirits of those who gathered to praise the great Creator. At the Court Street M. E. church, a union service of the Baptist, Congregational Presbyterian, First Methodist and Court Street Methodist churches was held. A quartet composed of Mrs. A. O. Wilson, Miss Jennie Tilton, Mr. J. G. Saxe and Mr. F. L. Hayden, rendered a Thanksgiving anthem, following which the Rev. M. G. Hodge, D. D., offered the opening prayer and read Governor Rusk's proclamation.

The Rev. W. F. Brown read a chapter of scripture and the Rev. Thomas Walker offered a prayer, which was simple but eloquent. The choir rendered another anthem, and after a collection had been taken the whole congregation joined in the patriotic hymn "America." The sermon by Rev. Allen J. Van Wagner, was a very able one, and to-morrow evening it will be published in full.

MATRIMONIAL.

HAWLEY-PETESON.

A pleasant company of relatives and friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Peterson, Cherry street, fourth ward, at eleven o'clock on Thanksgiving day, for the purpose of witnessing the ceremony which united Dr. F. M. Hawley, and Miss Christine Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs C. C. Peterson, as husband and wife. At eleven o'clock the groom and bride, unattended, took a position in a beautiful alcove in the parlor, which had been appropriately ornamented with flowers and house plants, and surrounded by the relatives and friends, the Rev. K. T. Thorwaldsen, of Orfordville, pronounced the happy words which made them one Congratulation were showered upon Dr. and Mrs. Hawley, after which the party sat down to a rich Thanksgiving wedding feast. The bride was remembered by her friends in the way of many beautiful and rich presents.

The newly married couple left on the afternoon train for Chicago, where they will remain a day or two, returning will make their home in the third ward, the doctor continuing in the practice of his profession. The bride is one of Janesville's sweetest singers, is a great favorite in social circles, and our people are to congratulate themselves that she is to remain in our city.

MET THE WRONG CROWD.

And Were Beaten by a Score of 3 to 0.

Milwaukee vs. Janesville.

The polo game at the rink last evening proved a great attraction. Seldom if ever since it was opened, has the building contained a larger number of people than were gathered there last night. No seats were vacant after eight o'clock and at nine o'clock desirable standing room was at a premium.

Game was called at 8:45, the boys taking their positions in the following order:

Milwaukee—Captain G. Bailey and Wm. Armstrong rushers; E. P. Cochrane half back; D. Hall, point; L. Robinson cover point; W. Kennelly, goal.

Janesville—Captain F. Sperry and A. Wyler rushers; D. P. Smith, Jr., half back; M. Hanson, point, F. Brown, cover point; R. Campbell, goal.

From the start the ball was kept near Milwaukee's cage, reaching Janesville's end rarely. Many good plays were made by both sides, but in floor work the Riverside team showed its training, and the play around goal was very exciting. Several very good stops were made by Kennelly and Robinson, of the visitors, but after six minutes of vigorous play the ball was driven to Hanson, and he giving it a light stroke, lifted it into the cage.

The next goal was still shorter. About four minutes from the whistle to commence, Sperry took the ball in tow, and by dint of some very skillfull dodging, carried it into Milwaukee's headquarters. His doubles and rushes in this bit of play drew loud applause and in the next goal he responded to the encore by doing the same thing over again. This third tally was won in five minutes, making a complete victory for Janesville in fifteen minutes.

After the cheering had subsided Manager Burr announced that the visitors had agreed to play an exhibition game to finish out the half hour. Both sides played with great enthusiasm, but after making two goals, both forfeited on account of foul, the Janesville boys proved victorious again.

The game was very free from any evidence of unfairness both the fouls resulting from accidents to players, and the Milwaukee team won much praise by their gentlemanly bearing. Mr. T. R. Howe, who accompanied them, acted as referee and gave good satisfaction, while Mr. Joe Whiting held the stop watch and looked after the tallies.

If some enterprising fellow would now corner the market on Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup he could make a fortune. Beware of frauds.

"For I am declined into the vale of years," she said a little sadly, but indeed I don't much mind it since I can get Salvation Oil for 25 cents.

What the Press Has To say About Miss Annie-Eva Fay.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says: "Whether one believes in spiritualism or not, the confession is forced that many of the tests were truly wonderful. Probably the most remarkable event of the evening was when Miss Fay was seated between a lady and gentleman in view of the audience materialized beautiful flowers and spiritual forms so plainly that they were recognized by persons in the audience. The signs of approval were many times loud and prolonged." The Detroit Free Press of a recent date says; "The experiments given by Miss Fay were certainly marvelous, especially the one given on the open stage in full view of the audience, where some of the most startling manifestations ever presented before a skeptical audience were given." And many other press notices from the leading journals of this country, too numerous to mention.

The great press admits her greatness.

"Incomprehensible."—London, England Times.

"Simply Wonderful."—London Telegraph.

"Electricity."—Royal Scientific Society, England.

"State force of Power."—Globe Democrat.

"Almost Miraculous."—Houston, Texas, Post.

"The best exhibition of occult power or force we ever saw on any public stage."—San Francisco Chronicle.

"Miss Fay is the only medium who has ever visited Detroit and given perfect satisfaction."—Detroit Free Press.

"She gives her seances in the broad gas light without resorting to the trickery of a darkened room."

"The most marvelous, thrilling and exciting exhibition ever introduced to the American public."—N. Y. Herald.

"Miss Fay's seance at Hooley's last night was most wonderful."—Chicago Times.

Press notices from every part of the continent express great surprise and wonder.

Miss Fay will give her Religious Illustrated lecture at Myers opera house next Sunday evening, Nov. 29th.

We Are Ten.

The Thanksgiving ball at the Guards armory last evening was a very brilliant affair. Much time had been spent by the young men in charge in arranging the details and the dance was a great success. About sixty couple were present and enjoyed the mazy waltz. Among those present from out of town were: Miss W. R. Wolf, Milwaukee; Mr. Fred Smith, Fort Atkinson: J. H. Taylor, K. W. Conway, Dr. W. S. Sullivan, W. D. Lemon and G. W. Smith, of Madison; Miss Nettie Leiniger of Shelton, Iowa, and Miss Kittie Collins, of Rockford, Ill. Anderson's orchestra furnished the music and Shurtleff acted as caterer.

65 Cents.

Is now the price of our best quality silk bound felt hats all desirable shapes and colors. The regular $1,00 grade.

A Great Tumble in Shoes.

Tuesday, Nov. 17th, the great Rochester Consolidated Shoe Co. opened one of their branches in Myers opera house block. This house deals exclusively in ladies', misses and children's shoes, ladies', misses and children's rubbers; ladies' misses and children's arctics, and all varieties of ladies' slippers. Since their opening their trade has been simply enormous; their prices are what draws the vast crowds. They have spread circulars broadcast throughout the country, setting forth the advantages of purchasing from first hands; you only have to pay one profit by purchasing your shoes of the Rochester Consolidated Shoe Co., saving all jobbers and retailers profits, we quote from their circulars a few sample prices which we think will be a surprise to those who have been paying war prices.

A Wife's Honor.

Lawrence Marston, supported by Miss Lillian Dunston and a powerful stock company, will appear at the opera house on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, opening their engagement with Marston's great romantic drama, "A Wife's Honor." The company is now playing at the Academy of Music, Chicago. Not only the Chicago papers, but wherever the company has appeared, the press speaks in the most flattering terms, of the play and the actors. The following is from the Buffalo Times, of September 24:—

The company is a good one and the characters afford excellent opportunities for the display of talent by the several members. The performance last night was frequently interrupted by applause, and the audience heartily enjoyed the many strong situations, which were made very dramatic without overdoing the thing. Lawrence Marston gave a faithful and very stirring impersonation of Vaclav Stafek. Miss Lillian Dunston, as the baroness, produced a finished character. She is young, pretty, graceful and ladylike, qualities of mind and nature necessary to success on the acting stage. In the second act, where she repels the villian who has turned her husband against her, she is especially strong, and when she poisons herself at the end of the act, she is very realistic. In the fifth act, in the scene with her husband, when she declares her innocence and seeks a reconciliation, Miss Dunston is pathetic, and in the subsequent incidents, before the reunion takes place, her acting is uniformly true to nature. She admirably sustains the character and gives unmistakable evidence in many of her climaxes and in the general detail of her acting of genius. In the scene where she poisons herself, and hears while apparently dying, the sound of her little daughter's voice, she displays wonderful voice and adroitness in her art. The same may be said of her in the meeting between husband and wife, after a separation of twelve years. Mr. Lawrence Marston, who is the author of the romantic drama, of course thoroughly understands the conception of his character, Stafek, the villain and causes of all the trouble that produces the drama in the lives of the baron and his wife.

A Walking Skeleton.

Mr. E. Springer, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes: "I was afflicted with lung fever and abscess on lungs, and reduced to a walking Skeleton. Got a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which did me so much good that I bought a dollar bottle. After using three bottles, found myself once more a man, completely restored to health, with a hearty appetite, and a gain in flesh of 48 pounds." Call at F. Sherer & Co's Drug Store and get a bottle of this certain cure for all Lung, Diseases. Large bottles $1.00.
